PREPARING TO TAKE CENSUS.

It Will Embrace All Factories Operating, Except Small Shops.

STATE ENUMERATORS.

Cost of Work For Entire Country Estimated at $600,000

The Census Office is preparing to make an exhaustive census of the manufactories of Kentucky and other states, and a large force of investigators will soon be put in the field to gather statistics. The census will embrace all establishments that are operated on the factory system, and will exempt only the small neighborhood shops. However, 95 per cent of the productive capacity of the state will be included. Eighty-four statisticians will be employed in taking the census, of whom 65 will be appointed from the state upon the recommendation of members of Congress and 19 be detailed from the Census Office in Washington. For the most part the Senators and Representatives have already appointed their men.

The cost of the census for the entire country is estimated at $600,000, as against $1,200,000 expended for the same purpose in 1900. The enumerators will be paid $3 a day for their work and it is calculated that it will take about four months to do the work. In Kentucky 18 enumerators will be employed.

Doesn't Need Eyes.

A negro named Geo. Davis, totally blind, is head hostler in a Versailles livery stable. He can tell the age of a horse by feeling its teeth. He can also distinguish between beauty and ugliness by the tone of the person's voice. He is sent out as driver on the darkest nights. His senses of hearing and feeling are so acute, that he apparently does not need eyes.

Owensboro has a club on the order of The Athenaeum in this city. It is called the Investigators, and at its meeting this week one of the papers will be a review of Wagner's "The Simple Life."

FARMERS HOLD MEETING AT FAIRVIEW.

Chas. E. Barker and Frank Rives Deliver Addresses.

R. F. VAUGHAN, CH'N.

A Good Attendance of Tobacco Growers And All Enthusiastic.

District Chairman Chas. E. Barker and Mr. Frank Rives held a meeting at Fairview Saturday for the purpose of further organizing the farmers.

Mr. R. F. Vaughan was elected Chairman of the meeting and Messrs. Barker and Rives made speeches.

About 100 planters were present and a good deal of interest was manifested in the protective movement. Some who had not signed before joined in the pledge their neighbors had given.

Want Eight Cents.

A dispatch from Henderson says 400 farmers attended a meeting Saturday, held under the auspices of the Society of Equity for the purpose of fixing the price of tobacco in that county. The principal speaker was L. N. Robertson, of Daviess county. A strong letter was read from Joel B. Fort, of Tennessee, in which he claimed the farmers' organization in the Clarksville district was an assured success. The other speakers were Judge Malcolm Yeaman, E. A. Jones, Judge J. H. Hart and Hon. J. Thomas Wilson.

The tangible fruits of the meeting were the appointment of precinct committeemen; who pledged themselves to make a rapid canvass of their respective precincts and secure from the owners of tobacco pledges to the organization that there will be a unity of action and a oneness in price, to wit: Eight cents around from the ground up, or, in other words, that average.

Thos. K. Neidringhaus, chairman of the Republican Committee of Missouri and nominee of his party for U. S. Senator, is under charges of corruption and his election is in grave doubt. The charges are being investigated and are liable to be proven.

A Broken Press.

The worse break that the Kentuckian's machinery has sustained in many years occurred Saturday afternoon. A sectional part of the cylinder press was broken, and the press will not be able to run until the piece is received from an Eastern factory to-morrow. This issue is printed from the press of one of our contemporaries.

Thomas, of Crofton, officiated. The bride is a very attractive and winsome young lady, not much beyond "sweet sixteen." The KENTUCKIAN extends its congratulations to the groom on his good fortune in winning her, and wishes for them both a long and happy life.

AT THE BIG RED SIGN!

Sale now under full swing. No let up to bargains; special features for each day. Sale positively closes Saturday night. People read our "ads" last week and were amazed, they came to look, they bought, they showed their neighbors and their neighbors bought, and they are all buying yet, and that's the story of our great sale in a nutshell.

Our greatest care now and during the remainder of the sale will be to guard and retain the confidence the people have shown us by giving values fully as good or better to the late comers as to the first. So come again and keep coming, our stock is immense and we're cutting the price on everything.

TO OUR FARMER FRIENDS

Clarksville, Tennessee, January 3rd, 1905.—This crop of tobacco, being of better quality and shorter in average yield, are two reasons for expecting better prices. Besides, full confidence in the final outcome, may be based upon the wise conclusion of the farmer to prize and put his tobacco in condition to hold for the best demand, only to be found on the open market. The force of combines, who have ignored open markets in order to fix lower prices in the country is broken, and we predict an era of greater prosperity will come to tobacco growers. The farmers will not regret the move they have made, and the more compact their organization, the greater their influence.

As we have done for the many years past, we solicit the patronage of farmers. As heretofore, our best efforts in their behalf can safely be relied upon. Our warehouse is open day and night, and provided with good, comfortable free quarters for teams and teamsters under the same roof.

Speaking of the development in the defensive powers of the modern guns of the American navy, as illustrated at the Washington naval gun factory, an experienced machinist and advance worker said to a Washington Star reporter:

"This general development is not due alone to improvements in guns or powder, or projectiles, but to the simultaneous and progressive development of all three.

"Less than half a century ago the heaviest gun known was the 68-pounder. This gun was about nine inches bore, and fired a 68-pound projectile, with a 16-pound charge of gunpowder, but was powerless against four and a half inches of wrought iron. Our battleship to-day are equipped with 12-inch guns, which, with a charge of 400 to 425 pounds of smokeless powder, are capable of driving an 850-pound projectile through 51 inches of solid wrought iron. In older times it required nearly four minutes to load and fire one of the now obsolete 68-pounders, while the new and terrible 12-inch guns can be loaded and fired in about 50 seconds with perfect safety.

"If a projectile from one of the old 68-pounders hit its mark, it was due to good luck, rather than to good management, but it is a matter of proud record that our modern 12-inch guns have scored seven hits in not more than six minutes at target practice, while our six-inch gun has a record of nine shots and nine hits in one minute."

The statistics of a modern 12-inch breech-loading rifle, as turned out by the naval gun factory, makes an interesting showing. Its weight is 101,300 pounds, or over 45 tons. Its total length, 36 feet 8 inches. The greatest diameter of gun body is 45 inches; total length of bore, 419.20 inches; capacity of chamber, 12.043 cubic inches; total capacity of bore, 51.355 inches; travel of projectile, 346.06 inches; weight of charge, service velocity, 425 pounds; weight of projectile, 850 pounds; ratio of projectile weight to weight of gun, 1:119; chamber pressure, 15 tons; muzzle velocity (service), 2,100 feet per second; thickness of steel which shell will perforate at muzzle 24.16 inches; at 1,500 yards 20.94 inches.

CHIROPODIST IN THE ARMY

Every German Infantry Regiment Has a Foot Specialist—Custom Is Growing.

"Every German infantry regiment has its chiropodist," said a military attaché, "and it won't be many years before all infantry regiments will have their chiropodists, too.

"A foot soldier's efficiency, you see, depends upon his feet. If he gets sore feet, he can't march well—can't advance fast, can't retreat fast. And his feet are apt, unless they are scientifically looked after, to get sore; for it is one thing, you know, to use the feet in an ordinary way, walking three or four miles a day in a city, and it is quite another thing to use them in military fashion, walking 15, 20 and sometimes 30 miles a day over rough country, carrying luggage besides.

"A soldier's feet need looking after, need inspection, just as his gun does. Hence Germany has introduced chiropodists into her army, and the chiropodists hold feet inspection daily. They see that the shoes fit well, that the stockings are in good condition, that blisters and corns don't form.

"It is not to see in Germany a line of privates having their feet inspected. This sight, though, will be a universal one ere long, and then its appearance of oddity will depart from it."

THE AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS

The more Magazines there are, the more Indispensable is The Review of Reviews

"Indispensable."—"The one magazine I feel I must take."—"The world under a field-glass."—"An education in public affairs and current literature."—these are some of the phrases one hears from noted people who read the Review of Reviews. The more magazines there are, the more necessary is the Review of Reviews, because it brings together the best that is in all the most important monthlies of the world. Such is the flood of periodical literature that towards people say that the only way to keep up with it is to read the Review of Reviews. Entirely over and above the reviewing section, it has more original matter and illustrations than most magazines, and the most timely and important articles printed in any monthly.

Probably the most useful section of all is Dr. Albert Shaw's illustrated "Progress of the World," where public events and issues are authoritatively and lucidly explained in every issue. Many a subscriber writes, "This department alone is worth more than the price of the magazine." The unique cartoon department, depicting current history in caricature, is another favorite. The Review of Reviews covers five continents, and yet is American, fast and foremost. Men in public life, the members of Congress, professional men, and the great captains of industry who must keep "up with the times," intelligent men and women all over America, have decided that it is "indispensable."

The Weather.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16.—For Kentucky: Fair and continued cold to-night and Tuesday.

The House broke the record Saturday by passing 459 pension bills in 108 minutes.

Congressman Vespasian Warner, of Illinois, will be nominated for Commissioner of Pensions, to succeed E. F. Ware.

Mr. Watterson is now in London and is writing some very interesting letters to the Courier-Journal.

Padewski is at work on a new opera dealing with the pathetic side of Polish life. It will be performed in London in May.

Former Mayor J. J. McCue, of Charlottesville, Va., who is to be hanged Jan. 20, has asked Governor Montague for a brief respite in order to close up his business affairs. He was convicted of wife murder.

Representative J. H. Wade, of Campbellville, will be married Wednesday to Miss Maude Higginson and take his bride to Frankfort during the special session of the legislature.

Gov. Adams has had notice of contest filed on him by his predecessor in office, ex-Gov. Peabody. The contest will be tried by the legislature and will take several weeks.

Sarah Bernhardt is in Turkey and the Sultan has stopped her from playing all pieces in which royalty of any degree is represented on the stage.

Senator Blackburn is headed towards Frankfort, breathing defiance to the "state machine," which he says is trying to defeat him for re-election. He declares that he will make the fight of his life and is confident of success next year.

Jas. W. Bess, the white man convicted of strangling his mistress at Lexington, was hanged Friday morning at 8 o'clock. He was a married man and his wife suffered a nervous collapse when she was led from his cell just before the execution.

The State Central Committee held a meeting at Frankfort Saturday and passed upon committee appointments in Louisville, Paducah and other cities. John Vreeland's list in Louisville, notwithstanding Senator Laban Phelps' protest, was confirmed in short order. Later Senator Phelps was allowed to state his reasons for protesting, but the question was not reopened. He is a candidate for Mayor against Paul Barth, who it is said is backed by Mayor Grainger, and claimed he was not permitted to see the list in time to tell whether his interests had been given consideration. The committee also adopted a rule requiring chairmen of conventions to recognize delegations whose credentials were signed by the county or district chairman, in temporary organizations.

Raised in Hancock Than Any Other County.

Hawesville, Ky., Jan. 16.—That more rabbits are raised in Hancock county than any other county in the state is evident by the great numbers that are annually shipped from here.

Although this is one of the smallest counties in the state in area it is no doubt the largest rabbit market of them all. There was in the neighborhood of thirty thousand rabbits shipped from Hancock county last winter to the big cities, to say nothing of the numbers consumed at home. Indications are that even a larger number than this will be shipped this winter.

One merchant alone here shipped nearly ten thousand, and he says he could use twice as many this winter if he could get them.

Most of the rabbits that are shipped are caught on snares by boys who make it a business of snaring every winter, and few are the boys now a days on a farm who do not have facon ten to twenty or even fifty snares set for "bunny" by the first frost fall.

The snares are made by bending a small bush over and fastening it to a prong, which is driven into the ground, by means of a trigger and button—the button being fastened to the string. A hangman's loop is then made and placed around little pegs driven into the ground. On the trigger is placed a piece of apple just inside the loop so when "beal rabbit" sticks his head in to steal the forbidden fruit it trips the trigger, the string is released, the bush flies back to its original position and jerks the loop tight and the rabbit is killed by a broken neck or by strangulation.

The snares are baited and set every evening, and the owner goes every morning early to see what luck he has had during the night. The catch usually was about one rabbit to every four snares set. The rabbits are brought into market every few days and sold to the merchants at 5 cents each. A rabbit is only worth 5 cents here, it doesn't matter if it is the first catch of the season, the market price being the same all winter. Rabbits snared are much better than those that are shot, because they are not mutilated in any way. Although the snaring process has been going on for several seasons, there seems to be an abundant supply of rabbits, and one does not have to go out of the city limits to jump one up. In a number of instances dairies have been known to pay as high as 25 to 50 cents for a rabbit that was caught in a grave yard, so that they might get the left hind foot to carry in their pocket to keep away hoodoos, but never could one be induced to eat a rabbit of this kind.

American Boy.

The twelve stories, nearly all of them illustrated, in The American Boy for January ought to make the boys' mouths water. These stories are of great variety, so that every sort of a boy ought to be pleased. Their titles are: "Up a Limb," a hunting story; "For the Mikado," a Japanese war story; "The Scoop of the Bald Eagle," a newspaper story; "The President's Cadet," a story of General Grant; "Pablo Mariscal," a Spanish-American story; "The Wire Fence Telephone," a farm story; "My Four Years at West Point," a school story; "Joyce Thatcher's Race," a farm story; "The Pilot Boys of Norway," a sea story; "A Race With a Stampede," a story of the plains; "Sufficient Unto the Day," a humorous story; "One of the Most Glorious Deeds Ever Done by a Boy," a story of heroism. This number contains number five of the messages of the Governors to American boys, being that of Governor Cummins of Iowa. 69 illustrations in all. $1.00 a year. Kirkmansville Passes Away After Long Illness.

Capt. R. F. Bass died at his home near Kirkmansville on the 8th inst., of diabetes, which disease he had been suffering from for many years. He was born Oct. 12, 1844. He represented Todd county in the lower branch of the legislature in 1892-3 (the long session). He was a member of the Masonic lodge at Kirkmansville, and had served as a Master several times. He attended the Grand Lodge in Louisville last October, but his health was such that he had to leave before the session was over. After his return home he improved very much, but of late he took a turn for the worse, and died. He leaves a wife and child, as well as a host of friends to mourn his death. Interment took place Monday at the Bass burying grounds, with Masonic honors.—Fairview Review.

DR. POWELL'S BANQUET

Annual Event of State Interest This Week.

The annual banquet of Rev. Dr. E. L. Powell, of the First Christian Church, of Louisville, will be held Thursday night, Jan. 19th.

There will be four responses by speakers of prominence in as many different professions.

Dr. Powell will himself speak to the subject, "Eleven Times One."

Rev. Carter Heim Jones, one of the prominent Baptist ministers of Louisville, will take as his subject, "She."

"The Confederate of History and the Confederate of Today," will be discussed by Gen. Basil W. Duke, of Louisville.

Dr. Powell always has a newspaper man in his list of speakers. This time Mr. Wallace T. Hughes, of the Courier-Journal, will answer the question, "What's the matter with Louisville?"

Hon John L. Griffiths, a leading Republican politician of Indianapolis and an orator of State reputation will be the last speaker. His subject will be "The Republic."

A South Dakota widow went into court and enjoined James Hemmings, a persistent suitor, from courting her. After a wait of three weeks Hemmings called and told her he could stay away no longer and the heartless creature had him hauled up before the court and fined $10 for contempt.

Every Two Minutes

Physicians tell us that all the blood in a healthy human body passes through the heart once in every two minutes. If this action becomes irregular the whole body suffers. Poor health follows poor blood; Scott's Emulsion makes the blood pure. One reason why is such a great aid is because it passes so quickly into the blood. It is partly digested before it enters the stomach; a double advantage in this. Less work for the stomach; quicker and more direct benefits. To get the greatest amount of good with the least possible effort is the desire of everyone in poor health. Scott's Emulsion does just that. A change for the better takes place even before you expect it.

We will send you a sample free. Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy. SCOTT & BOWNE Chemists 409 Pearl St., N. Y. 50 cents and $1.00 All druggists

BABY'S FACE MASS OF SORES

Ears Looked as if They Would Drop Off—Body Entirely Covered with Humor—Three Doctors Could Not Cure—Child Grew Worse.

CURED BY CUTICURA IN TWO WEEKS

Mrs. George J. Steese, of 701 Colburn St., Akron, Ohio, tells in the following letter of another of those remarkable cures of torturing, disfiguring skin humors daily made by Cuticura Soap, assisted by Cuticura Ointment, after physicians, and all else had failed: "I feel it my duty to parents of other poor suffering babies to tell you what Cuticura has done for my little daughter. She broke out all over her body with a humor, and we used everything recommended, but without results. I called in three doctors, they all claimed they could help her, but she continued to grow worse. Her body was a mass of sores, and her little face was eaten away, her ears looked as if they would drop off. Neighbors advised me to get Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and before I had used half of the cake of soap and box of ointment the sores had all healed, and my little one's face and body was as clear as a newborn babe. I would not be without it again if it cost five dollars, instead of seventy-five cents, which is all it cost us to cure our baby, after spending many dollars on doctors and medicines without any benefit whatever."

SLEEP FOR BABIES

Rest for Mothers. Instant relief and refreshing sleep for skin-tortured babies, and rest for tired, fretted mothers, in warm baths with Cuticura Soap and gentle anointings with Cuticura Ointment, the great skin cure, and purest of emollients. It would not be without it again if it cost five dollars, instead of seventy-five cents, which is all it cost us to cure our baby, after spending many dollars on doctors and medicines without any benefit whatever."
